

Dear Neighbour:

Hurrah! The development proposal for 1201 Fort Street was sent back for revision on October 26, 2017.

We do not have a synopsis of the decision yet, but this will be posted on the website when completed. There are also quick directions to the archived Council webcast on the website. It is about 1 hours 30 minutes long.

However, we need your help to do one more thing as soon as possible. It is very important. The Mayor and Council need to hear from you with a quick thank you. Your voice does matter!

PLEASE SEND A THANK-YOU TO MAYOR AND COUNCIL.

Here is the email: mayorandcouncil@victoria.ca You can use the same subject line above.

Here are some quick thoughts that you might consider including:

Thank you for sending the Development Proposal for 1201 Fort St. back to the developer for revision, a second time. It was too big the first time. It was too big the second time.

As my elected representative, I appreciate that you are protecting my interest in saving the residential character of Rockland by sending the development proposal for 1201 Fort St. back for revision. It was too big.

I would like to thank you, my elected representative, for representing my interests as City Hall. The development proposal for 1201 Fort Street was simply too big. It needs to be much smaller.

Thank you for sending the proposal for 1201 Fort St back for revision a second time. It was not a good fit for the neighbourhood. It was too big.

There is a quick link to the website, too.
